Dear Public Service Director,

Our words and actions matter. While weight shouldn't dictate the way people are treated, for those affected by obesity, weight bias can impact their life from childhood to adulthood. Weight bias exists in all aspects of life, including education, healthcare, the workplace and media. Often times people internalize weight bias and blame themselves for their weight which can be incredibly damaging to their mental and physical health. Obesity is a serious disease deserving of safe and effective science-based treatment options. It's crucial that we move away from the "shame and blame" of this disease and treat people living with obesity with the respect that they deserve.

The Obesity Action Coalition (OAC) is a more than 70,000 member-strong 501(c)(3) National non-profit organization dedicated to giving a voice to the individual affected by the disease of obesity and helping individuals along their journey toward better health through education, advocacy and support. The Stop Weight Bias Campaign is committed to raising awareness, putting a stop to weight bias and pushing equality forward.

Please help inform your audience about the issue of weight bias by airing the new PSAs "Stop Weight Bias" (:60, :30, :30, :30, :30). These PSAs demonstrate how weight bias affects those living with the disease of obesity and the importance of treating people with obesity with dignity and respect. The PSA also encourages viewers to visit StopWeightBias.com to learn more about weight bias and how they can help end it. We hope that you will air these PSAs, which have no end date for use, as soon and as often as possible.
