Dear Public Service Director,

Transportation barriers are the #1 reason for missed cancer appointments.

The Road To Recovery program is at the very heart of the American Cancer Society's work of removing barriers to quality health care by providing transportation to cancer-related medical appointments. Many people need daily or weekly treatment, often over the course of several months. Family and friends may help, but they may not always have the time or resources to provide every ride, which can create a barrier to cancer treatment. The Road To Recovery program removes this barrier by providing free rides to treatment through trained volunteer drivers.

The Road to Recovery Program was paused in 2020 due to public health concerns during the pandemic. After relaunching the program in late 2021, the American Cancer Society was faced with a significant challenge of recruiting and reengaging volunteer drivers. Our current volunteer capacity is not meeting the demand for rides to critical cancer treatment appointments; about 55% of ride requests are unfulfilled.

We hope that you will help meet this urgent need for volunteer drivers in your market by airing the American Cancer Society's Road To Recovery PSA (:30, :15). The PSA encourages individuals to give of their time and presence to drive a cancer patient to treatment, because even the best treatment won't work if a patient can't get there. The need is urgent and we hope you will share this message with your viewers by airing this PSA as soon and as often as possible. This PSA has no end date for use.

Thank you in advance for your support and consideration.
