ABOUT TEACH.org

TEACH.org is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization whose mission is to reduce the teacher shortage, improve the quality of the new teacher supply, and raise the image of the teaching profession. TEACH.org is the recruiting arm of the teaching profession, partnering with State Education Agencies, Local Education Agencies, and Educator Preparation Programs to achieve its mission. We have become the largest pipeline of teachers in the country with the lowest cost-per-recruit.

Dear Public Service Director,

Every student deserves a great education. A great teacher is one of the most significant drivers of student achievement. But America is facing its worst-ever shortage of teachers, which has been compounded by the lasting effects of the pandemic. It is more important than ever that our students have great teachers who can prepare them to lead us to a better future in our fast-changing world. Even though teaching is the profession that impacts all others, people do not respect teachers like they respect other professionals. This prevents talented individuals from entering the field. The teacher shortage is an issue that affects K-12 schools, students, and families in your DMA.

What if we could change the way people think about teaching, and encourage everyone to respect teachers for the skills, creativity, leadership, and innovation that they bring to their work every day? More people would consider entering the field, and our current teachers would feel celebrated for doing the stimulating and fulfilling work of shaping kids' lives. That's what TEACH.org aims to do.

TEACH.org is re-releasing our inspirational PSA, entitled "Teachers: Leaders Shaping Lives" (:60, :30, :15). The spots emphasize the impressive skills, expertise, and leadership ability teachers use to prepare students for success in our fast-changing world. The PSA elevates the teaching profession, celebrates our teachers, and inspires more talented people to become teachers. The PSAs, which can be used until Dec 31, 2026, conclude with an invitation to explore teaching at TEACH.org, a one-stop-shop online portal, where audiences can explore whether teaching is a good fit for them, access one-on-one advising and personalized support, compare teacher training programs, find financial aid opportunities, and take advantage of other valuable resources to help them become teachers - all for free.

Please consider airing these PSAs and supporting the K-12 public schools in your area by celebrating teachers and inspiring more talented people to enter this critical field.

Thank you in advance for your support and consideration.

Sincerely,

Sincerely,

Dear Applicant:

We're pleased to tell you we determined you're exempt from federal income tax under Internal Revenue Code (IRC) Section 501(c)(3). Donors can deduct contributions they make to you under IRC Section 170. You're also qualified to receive tax deductible bequests, devises, transfers or gifts under Section 2055, 2106, or 2522. This letter could help resolve questions on your exempt status. Please keep it for your records.

Organizations exempt under IRC Section 501(c)(3) are further classified as either public charities or private foundations. We determined you're a public charity under the IRC Section listed at the top of this letter.

If we indicated at the top of this letter that you're required to file Form 990/990-EZ/990-N, our records show you're required to file an annual information return (Form 990 or Form 990-EZ) or electronic notice (Form 990-N, the e-Postcard). If you don't file a required return or notice for three consecutive years, your exempt status will be automatically revoked.

If we indicated at the top of this letter that an addendum applies, the enclosed addendum is an integral part of this letter.

For important information about your responsibilities as a tax-exempt organization, go to www.irs.gov/charities. Enter "4221-PC" in the search bar to view Publication 4221-PC, Compliance Guide for 501(c)(3) Public Charities, which describes your recordkeeping, reporting, and disclosure requirements.
